Family, friends, squadron mates mourn loss of VT-4 instructor

A memorial service was held earlier this week at the Naval Aviation Memorial Chapel for Lt. Thomas Douglas Waterbury. The VT-4 flight instructor was killed April 15, during carrier operations in the Gulf of Mexico, approximately 70 miles south of Pensacola.

The 28-year-old naval officer was a resident of Little Silver, N.J., and a 1985 graduate of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y.

According to Navy officials, Waterbury and another pilot from VT-19, NAS Meridian, Miss., crashed after their T-2C Buckeye jet trainer was launched from the USS Forrestal.

Both aviators ejected, but rescuers were only able to find one pilot.

Several hundred people, including Lt. Waterbury's family, Vice Adm. Jack Fetterman and former Pensacola Mayor Vince Whibbs, were on hand to pay their final respects to the man VT-4 Commanding Officer Cmdr. Pat Tilley described as "full of compassion and a love for life." Following the ceremony, a flight of four T-2s passed overhead in a "missing man" formation.

Prior to reporting to VT-4 in May 1991, Lt. Waterbury had served as an E-2 pilot with VAW-117 at NAS Miramar, Calif.

Corry Station instructor picked as CNET SoY

By Eas. Eric K. Dolan

CNET Public Affairs

CTT1 James H. Henderson Jr., an instructor assigned to NTTC Corry Station, was recently selected as the CNET Sailor of the Year.

In presenting the master training specialist with the CNET Sailor of the Year plaque, Vice Adm. Jack Fetterman, Chief of Naval Education and Training said, "Collectively, all our candidates have gone above and beyond. They are Sailor of the Year nominees because they simply enjoy what they are doing."

One of five finalists competing for the prestigious title, Petty Officer Henderson credited his winning philosophy to his father. "Winners make it happen. Losers watch it happen," he told those present for the Sailor of the Year banquet.

A native of Covington, Ky., Petty Officer Henderson is an assistant company commander and instructor in the Cryptologic Training Department's Basic School. As an instructor in the school he was instrumental in 14 students winning the prestigious Samuel F.B. Morse Award.

CTT1 James H. Henderson is presented with a plaque naming him CNET Sailor of the Year by Chief of Naval Education and Training, Vice Adm. Jack Fetterman.

Prior to his selection as CNET Sailor of the Year, Petty Officer Henderson was selected as the Chief of Naval Technical Training Command's Sailor of the Year.

Henderson will now go on to compete for the title of Chief of Naval Operations Sailor of the Year. The CNO Sailor of the Year competition will be held in Washington, D.C., next month.

Other nominees for CNET Sailor of the Year were:

OS1 David A. Pearson, representing the Commander, Training Command, U.S. Pacific Fleet. Pearson is a master training specialist for the Air Control Division, San Diego.

LT1 David P. Nesbitt, representing the Chief of Naval Air Training Command, NAS Meridian, Miss. Nesbitt is assigned to the NAS Meridian Legal Office.

HM1 Lynn C. Martin, representing Naval Education and Training Direct Reporters, Pensacola Naval Hospital. Martin is leading petty officer of the Branch Medical Clinic.

Orange Park school captures NJROTC Field Day crown

By Gregory F. Stallworth

CNET Public Affairs

Approximately 360 high school students participated in the second annual Navy League National NJROTC Field Day Championship held last weekend aboard NAS. Participating cadets represented nine of the top NJROTC drill teams from New Jersey, New York, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi and Texas. The event, sponsored by the Pensacola Chapter of the Navy League of the United States, encompassed two days of rigorous military drill, athletic and academic competition.

Activities came to a dramatic ending with an awards ceremony held at the Naval Aviation Schools Command parade grounds, presided over by Rear Adm. Louise C. Wilmot, Vice Chief of Naval Education and Training. Parents stood on the side lines wearing proud smiles as the cadets stood in rigid formation anxiously waiting for the announcement of winners. Loud cheers greeted the announcement awarding the overall championship to the unit from Orange Park High School, Orange Park, Fla.

"We're extremely proud to have won," said Cmdr. Charles Lusk, Naval Science Instructor at Orange Park High School. "Our success can be attributed to the dedication and hard work that all of our students put forth. The competition was tough, but our team effort put us over the edge."

Recognizing the NJROTC program as a means to starting a successful career, one Orange Park High School student said being a part of NJROTC is one of the most rewarding things he has ever done. It's an organization that his parents fully support.

"NJROTC has opened a lot of doors for me that I probably would have never been able to open by myself," Cadet Michael Klappmeyer said. "Since the very start, my dad loved the idea of my being a part of the program, but my mother was a little skeptical at first. Now that she has seen what the program is really about, she likes it and is really getting into it." He added that through NJROTC he has been awarded a four-year NJROTC college scholarship which he plans to use at Auburn University, Jacksonville University or the Illinois Institute of Technology.

The unit from Middleburg High School, Middleburg, Fla., placed second, while the cadets from George Washington High School, Danville, Va., placed third.

Rear Adm. Louise Wilmot, Vice Chief of Naval Education and Training, congratulates NJROTC cadets on their winning performance during last week's Field Day Championships.

PREFACE

By enrolling in this self-study course, you have demonstrated a desire to improve yourself and the Navy. Remember, however, this self-study course is only one part of the total Navy training program. Practical experience, schools, selected reading, and your desire to succeed are also necessary to successfully round out a fully meaningful training program.

THE COURSE: This self-study course is organized into subject matter areas, each containing learning objectives to help you determine what you should learn along with text and illustrations to help you understand the information. The subject matter reflects day-to-day requirements and experiences of personnel in the rating or skill area. It also reflects guidance provided by Enlisted Community Managers (ECMs) and other senior personnel, technical references, instructions, etc., and either the occupational or naval standards, which are listed in the Manual of Navy Enlisted Manpower Personnel Classifications and Occupational Standards, NAVPERS 18068.

THE QUESTIONS: The questions that appear in this course are designed to help you understand the material in the text.

VALUE: In completing this course, you will improve your military and professional knowledge. Importantly, it can also help you study for the Navy-wide advancement in rate examination. If you are studying and discover a reference in the text to another publication for further information, look it up.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR TAKING THE COURSE

ASSIGNMENTS

The text pages that you are to study are listed at the beginning of each assignment. Study these pages carefully before attempting to answer the questions. Pay close attention to tables and illustrations and read the learning objectives. The learning objectives state what you should be able to do after studying the material. Answering the questions correctly helps you accomplish the objectives.

SELECTING YOUR ANSWERS

Read each question carefully, then select the BEST answer. You may refer freely to the text. The answers must be the result of your own work and decisions. You are prohibited from referring to or copying the answers of others and from giving answers to anyone else taking the course.

SUBMITTING YOUR ASSIGNMENTS

To have your assignments graded, you must be enrolled in the course with the Nonresident Training Course Administration Branch at the Naval Education and Training Professional Development and Technology Center (NETPDTC). Following enrollment, there are two ways of having your assignments graded: (1) use the Internet to submit your assignments as you complete them, or (2) send all the assignments at one time by mail to NETPDTC.

Grading on the Internet: Advantages to Internet grading are:

- you may submit your answers as soon as you complete an assignment, and
- you get your results faster; usually by the next working day (approximately 24 hours).

In addition to receiving grade results for each assignment, you will receive course completion confirmation once you have completed all the assignments. To submit your assignment answers via the Internet, go to:

<http://courses.cnet.navy.mil>

Grading by Mail: When you submit answer sheets by mail, send all of your assignments at one time. Do NOT submit individual answer sheets for grading. Mail all of your assignments in an envelope, which you either provide yourself or obtain from your nearest Educational Services Officer (ESO). Submit answer sheets to:

COMMANDING OFFICER
NETPDTC N331
6490 SAUFLEY FIELD ROAD
PENSACOLA FL 32559-5000

Answer Sheets: All courses include one “scannable” answer sheet for each assignment. These answer sheets are preprinted with your SSN, name, assignment number, and course number. Explanations for completing the answer sheets are on the answer sheet.

Do not use answer sheet reproductions: Use only the original answer sheets that we provide—reproductions will not work with our scanning equipment and cannot be processed.

Follow the instructions for marking your answers on the answer sheet. Be sure that blocks 1, 2, and 3 are filled in correctly. This information is necessary for your course to be properly processed and for you to receive credit for your work.

COMPLETION TIME

Courses must be completed within 12 months from the date of enrollment. This includes time required to resubmit failed assignments.

PASS/FAIL ASSIGNMENT PROCEDURES

If your overall course score is 3.2 or higher, you will pass the course and will not be required to resubmit assignments. Once your assignments have been graded you will receive course completion confirmation.

If you receive less than a 3.2 on any assignment and your overall course score is below 3.2, you will be given the opportunity to resubmit failed assignments. You may resubmit failed assignments only once. Internet students will receive notification when they have failed an assignment--they may then resubmit failed assignments on the web site. Internet students may view and print results for failed assignments from the web site. Students who submit by mail will receive a failing result letter and a new answer sheet for resubmission of each failed assignment.

COMPLETION CONFIRMATION

After successfully completing this course, you will receive a letter of completion.

ERRATA

Errata are used to correct minor errors or delete obsolete information in a course. Errata may also be used to provide instructions to the student. If a course has an errata, it will be included as the first page(s) after the front cover. Errata for all courses can be accessed and viewed/downloaded at:

NAVAL RESERVE RETIREMENT CREDIT

If you are a member of the Naval Reserve, you will receive retirement points if you are authorized to receive them under current directives governing retirement of Naval Reserve personnel. For Naval Reserve retirement, this course is evaluated at 15 points. These points will be credited in units, as follows:

Unit 1 - 12 points upon satisfactory completion of assignments 1 through 7.

Unit 2 - 3 points upon satisfactory completion of assignments 8 and 9.

(Refer to Administrative Procedures for Naval Reservists on Inactive Duty, BUPERSINST 1001.39, for more information about retirement points.)

COURSE OBJECTIVES

In completing this nonresident training course, you will demonstrate a knowledge of the subject matter by correctly answering questions on the following: Public Affairs Office Management, Public Affairs in Adverse News Situations; The Command Information Bureau; Media Relations; Community Relations and Special Events; Speeches; Newspaper Staff Supervision; Broadcast Management; and Audience Surveys.
